

Everyone considers reality to be one, no one ever says this reality, that reality, my reality or your reality-reality is reality. However religion is always talked about in terms of yours, mine, this one-that one. The truth is of course that religion is one as is reality-yet still they are both as multifaceted as the sun.